

vWhiskey

Virtual Whiskey asks, how likely are you to share or casually exchange fluids with someone in a social situation? What thoughts cross your mind as you participate with others in public? How well defined are your boundaries?

vWhiskey is best experienced sculpturally while wandering through a space, periodically bending over at the waist and placing your lips softly on the metallic tubes. Softly inhale – think a reverse whistle – allowing the liquid to effortlessly draw into mouth through a gentle capillary actions. Wearing noise-canceling headphones assists in heightening your sense of taste by removing the ambient din and isolating the visual information.
